DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1 – 5 and 7 - 12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102 ( b ) as being anticipated by St. Jean ( US 4,890,393 ).

With respect to claim 1, St. Jean discloses an end piece for attachment to a free end of a measuring tape, the end piece including an end hook ( 11 A ) with a support portion formed of a first material and a grip portion formed of a second material, wherein the support portion provides a keying interface on which the grip portion is moulded, thereby securing the grip portion to the support portion ( See Column 3, lines 57 – 62 ).

In regards to claim 2, St. Jean also discloses an end piece wherein the keying interface includes at least one concave formation ( 11B' or 15 ) on the support portion.

Regarding claim 3, St. Jean further suggests an end piece wherein said concave formation includes a concave step or steps, dent or dimple ( See Figure 2 ).

With regards to claim 4, St. Jean teaches an end piece wherein the concave formation (15) is located at least on the rearward side of the support portion ( See Figure 6 ).

Regarding claim 5, St. Jean also discloses an end piece wherein the keying interface includes at least one channel formed in the support portion.

In regards to claim 7, St. Jean shows an end piece wherein the support portion includes a surface on the rearward face and of the end hook which are not covered by the second material, the grip portion being disposed adjacent said surface or surfaces ( See Figure 1 ).

With respect to claim 8, St. Jean further suggests an end piece wherein the grip portion is formed so that it embraces the end surface or edge of the support portion ( See Figure 1 ).

Regarding claim 9, St. Jean also teaches an end piece wherein the grip portion is formed of a relatively resilient material, i.e. plastic, in comparison to the first material ( as suggested in column 3, lines 61 – 62 ).

In regards to claim 10, St. Jean further discloses a measuring tape ( 20 ) with a free end (32) and an end piece (10, 12 ) attached to the free end.

With respect to claim 11, the method of forming a measuring tape end piece including the steps of providing a support portion ( 11A ) of an end hook, the support portion being formed of a first material and having a keying surface; and moulding a grip portion, formed of a second material, onto the keying surface ( See Column 3, lines 57 – 62 ), thereby to secure the grip portion to the support portion will be achieved by the regular operation of the device disclosed by St. Jean.

In regards to claim 12, the method wherein the support portion is formed in a first moulding step and the grip portion is then formed in a second moulding step will be achieved by the regular operation of the device disclosed by St. Jean.

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claim 6 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
